We wish to call attention to our Round Iron Hoop Tank. These have advantages over other tanks, because it allows the whole of the outside to be painted. It is easier put up, and is non-shrinkable, and does not pollute the water in the tank as the so-called non-shrinkable tanks do.

We have on hand a large assortment

JAMES CAMPBELL IS DEAD

FOR FIFTY YEARS A RESIDENT OF HAWAII.

Came to the Island as a Ship's Carpenter Early Engaged in the Sugar Industry—Amassed Wealth.

James Campbell, for fifty years a resident of the Hawaiian Islands and a considerable figure in their industrial development, died Saturday afternoon of uremia, at his residence on Emma street, aged about seventy-two years.
The funeral will take place from his late residence at a quarter to three o'clock this afternoon. The services will be conducted by Bishop Willis. The interment will be in the family lot in Nuunuu cemetery. The pall-bearers will be: Joseph O. Carter, H. von Holt, E. S. Cunha, J. M. Dowsett, and Godfrey Brown.

Mr. Campbell had been sick for about three months, most of the time confined to the house. He was taken ill while on a visit to the coast. He arrived here about two weeks ago on the Australia, and though well enough to walk about for a few days, became worse soon, and died Saturday.
James Campbell was born in Londonderry, Ireland, and came to Hawaii as a ship's carpenter on a whaling vessel, landing at Lahaina in 1852. There he took up his trade as a carpenter, and lived in the family of a white man known as Baria. He married Hannah, a daughter of his host. She died about 1858 without issue. In the early sixties he engaged in sugar planting, and in connection with Harry Turton established Pioneer Mill plantation. This was brought up to be a very valuable property, and shortly after the ratification of the treaty of Reciprocity, Campbell offered to sell his interest to Turton or buy Turton's for half a million dollars. Turton bought, though for various causes the property did not prosper under his single management, and Campbell afterwards bought the property. For the last fifteen or twenty years of his life Campbell was not directly interested in sugar planting, investing his capital in lands and buildings, both here and on the coast, a fine hotel in San Jose, California, being one of his latest investments. He owned much of the land included in Ewa plantation, the Ehlers and Ellis blocks in Honolulu, besides much other property. It is estimated that he was worth at his death $3,000,000.

He himself said that the principle upon which he had accumulated his wealth was in always living on less than he made. While not prodigal in his expenditures, he gave much to causes both political and charitable in which he was interested. The last fifteen years of his life was spent largely in travel for the education and pleasure of his children. Four years ago, while visiting in San Francisco he was abducted and kept in a house in the Western Addition for two days and nights, the purpose being to compel him to pay a big ransom. One of the men alleged to have been his abductors, Oliver Winthrop, was sentenced to life imprisonment after a trial that attracted a great deal of attention.

In 1879, Mr. Campbell married Abigail Maine Bright, who bore him eight children, four of whom with their mother survive. These are: Abigail and Alice who are at Notre Dame seminary, San Jose, Muriel and Mary Beatrice.

We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see how it would affect us.
It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs.—The Herald.

DANDRUFF KILLER

SCARCITY of water and the partial cessation of street sprinkling in this city has led to a very dusty condition of the streets, which, combined with a southerly atmosphere causes an irritation of the scalp and a generally itchy feeling in the head with a great many people. One application of PACHECO'S DANDRUFF KILLER will give prompt relief.
